Beat the Heat

Hooray! It's the first day of summer! And while we're all ready for some fun in the sun, we need to be prepared to help our pets beat the heat!

With a summer of record temperatures ahead of us, making sure the furry friends in our lives stay safe. They feel the heat a lot more than we do, especially those who have fur, so any way we can keep them cool, the better.

Thankfully, the ASPCA has provided a list of ways to do just that! Head over to:

Follow the tips provided and keep your pets summer ready! Be sure to refer to the infographic above (and at the end of the ASPCA article) in case you're thinking of leaving your pet in the car – or if you see a pet left in a car!

Stay safe and have fun!
