Snuff Out Trouble Before It's Sniffed Out!

Having a pet is like having a toddler.

Okay, kind of like having a toddler and kind of not. One has more legs than the other, and usually there's a bunch of fur, and barking or meowing involved. But they both have a knack for getting into things that they shouldn't and especially when we're not looking. And for our four-legged babies, something that may not be harmful to us could be fatal to them.

Do you know what to look for? What to keep out of reach? Or what to keep out of the house completely, if possible?

That's where the ASPCA Poison Control comes in. They have up-to-date information on what to do if your pet ingests something they shouldn't, and what to look for before it happens – to prevent it and to read the signs correctly.
